

Skip to main content

Factrel (Gonadorelin)

Zuletzt aktualisiert: 30. November 2017

Systemic effects have been reported rarely following administration of 100 mcg of Factrel (gonadorelin) .

headache, light-headedness. CNS:

nausea, abdominal discomfort. GI:

local swelling, occasionally with pain and pruritis, at the injection site may occur following subcutaneous administration; local and generalized skin Dermatologic:
rash have been noted after chronic subcutaneous administration.

flushing. Cardiovascular:

Rare instances of hypersensitivity reaction (bronchospasm, tachycardia, flushing, urticaria, induration at injection site) and anaphylactic reactions have been reported following multiple-dose administration.

-There has been a report of pituitary apoplexy and sudden blindness following gonadotropin-releasing hormone administration to a patient with a gonadotropin secreting adenoma.

>