

Skip to main content

Cefazolin and Dextrose for Injection (Cefazolin Injection)

??? ??????: 30 ?????2/????? 2017

The following reactions have been reported:

Diarrhea, oral candidiasis (oral thrush), vomiting, nausea, stomach cramps, anorexia and pseudomembranous colitis. Onset of Gastrointestinal: ). Nausea and vomiting have been reported rarely. WARNINGS pseudomembranous colitis symptoms may occur during or after antibiotic treatment (see

Anaphylaxis, eosinophilia, itching, drug fever, skin rash, Stevens-Johnson syndrome. Allergic:

Neutropenia, leukopenia, thrombocytopenia, thrombocythemia. Hematologic:

Transient rise in SGOT, SGPT, and alkaline phosphatase levels has been observed. As with other cephalosporins, reports of hepatitis have been received. Hepatic:

As with other cephalosporins, reports of increased BUN and creatinine levels, as well as renal failure, have been received. Renal:

Rare instances of phlebitis have been reported at site of injection. Some induration has occurred. Local Reactions:

Genital and anal pruritus (including vulvar pruritus, genital moniliasis, and vaginitis). Other Reactions: